Brian:

Per our previous discussions, we were only using the detected compounds from the previous sampling by the PRPs at the site in the Data Evaluation Summary Report (DESR) because that was the only data that had been provided. Thanks to your help we recently obtained pdf copies of the entire laboratory packages generated by the PRPs. The data packages are useful but will require considerable effort to load into our database for the site. You are in the process of requesting the electronic deliverable packages of this data from the PRPs. It is our understanding that you want us to stop the work on the DESR until we know if we can obtain the electronic deliverables. Please let me know if this is correct.

We will continue to use the available data to evaluate the next steps for the site.

Thank you,
Bob Owens
